Karin Sipido, M.D., Ph.D.
Professor & Head of Experimental Cardiology
Division of Experimental Cardiology
Department of Cardiovascular Sciences
KU Leuven, University of Leuven, Belgium

Seminar:
“Arrhythmias After Myocardial Infarction – of Myocytes and Fibroblasts”

Abstract:
Lethal arrhythmias after myocardial infarction (MI) are most often treated by ablation. Using a pig model of MI and human cardiac tissue, we explore the regional heterogeneity of cardiac remodeling after MI and search for cellular mechanisms that could be targeted through local non-invasive therapy.

References: